I. INTRODUCTION

This Risk Disclaimer provides you with information about the risks associated with investment products that you may invest in through services provided to you by WALE s.r.o. Company ID No.: 56 458 401, with its registered office at Turcianska 1147/16, 82109, Bratislava, Slovakia, e-mail address: info@wale.sk, telephone number: [+421 907 519 082] ("Wale", "We", "Us", "Our", "Ours"), specifically in relation to buying, selling, or trading cryptocurrencies. This document does not explain all the risks involved in cryptocurrencies or how such risks relate to your personal circumstances.

By using our Services, you acknowledge and accept the risks detailed in this Disclaimer as well as any other risks associated with trading in virtual assets and using our Services. The risk of loss in cryptocurrency-related investments can be substantial. It is important that you fully understand the risks involved, that you have adequate financial resources to bear such risks, and that you monitor your positions carefully. We do not provide you with any investment advice. If you are in any doubt about the risks involved with your account, you should seek professional advice.

II. RISK OF CRYPTOCURRENCIES

Cryptocurrencies and digital assets are highly volatile and speculative in nature. They are not suitable for all investors, and their value may fluctuate significantly due to various factors, including market demand, regulatory developments, and technological advancements. Users are advised to perform their own due diligence and consult with professional advisors before engaging in any transactions involving cryptocurrencies. Some of the key risks associated with cryptocurrencies are highlighted below:

- The value of cryptocurrencies is driven by market forces and is subject to significant fluctuations. These fluctuations may lead to substantial financial losses.
- Cryptocurrencies operate in a dynamic regulatory environment. Changes in laws or regulatory requirements may affect their use, value, or legality in certain jurisdictions.
- The platform and cryptocurrencies rely on digital infrastructure, making them susceptible to hacking, phishing, malware, and other cyber threats. Wale employs robust security measures, but we cannot guarantee complete immunity to cyber risks.
- Cryptocurrency transactions are generally irreversible. In the event of accidental or unauthorized transactions, recovery may not be possible.
- The liquidity of digital assets may vary, and there is no guarantee of active markets. Users may experience difficulties in buying, selling, or trading cryptocurrencies promptly.
- Wale collaborates with third-party service providers for certain functionalities. Disruptions in these services may impact your experience on the platform.
- Users are responsible for understanding and complying with applicable tax obligations arising from cryptocurrency transactions. Wale does not provide tax advice.
- Technical failures, system errors, or disruptions in blockchain networks may lead to delays, errors, or transaction failures.
- The legal status of cryptocurrencies varies across jurisdictions. Users should ensure compliance with local laws and regulations when using the Services.

III. NO ADVICE

Wale does not provide investment, financial, or legal advice. Any information or research recommendations provided on the platform is for informational purposes only and should not be considered as a recommendation to engage in any transaction. Any decision to use our products or services is made by you. You are responsible for managing your legal and tax affairs, including making any regulatory filings and payments and complying with applicable laws and regulations.

IV. USER LIABILITY

Users must evaluate their financial circumstances, risk tolerance, and objectives before engaging in cryptocurrency transactions. By using the Services, users acknowledge and accept the inherent risks and agree that Wale shall not be held liable for any loss or damage arising from these risks.
